Lonely For Her

Jack's Mannequin

Every time I'm thinking 'bout
The day coming 'round, well, I'll be strong
Well, that's the day that passes into night
It's like I can't hold on, I can't hold on
I'm uneasy, and I'm weak in the knees
And I'm trying not to breathe
Not believing, not believing you're gone
And that I was the one to let you
I'm so, I'm so lonely for her
I'm so, I'm so lonely for her
So lonely for her
I'm staring at the clock but the clock
Doesn't talk, it just stands still
A head full of fuzz, and a puzzle
That adds up the scandal
No I can't handle three nights
So I shudder to think when the nights turn to weeks
Am I alright? The comedian said
That a day without lights just
I'm so, I'm so lonely for her
I'm so, I'm so lonely for her
I'm so lonely for her
I'm so, I'm so lonely
I'm so lonely
My one and only
I'm so, I'm so lonely for her
(And when the rain comes)
I'm so, I'm so lonely for her
(It'll fall and that's okay)
I'm so, I'm so lonely for her
(And when the sun comes out)
I'm so, I'm so lonely for her
(It's gonna be a beautiful day)
I'm so, I'm so lonely for her
I'm so, I'm so lonely for her
All I know is that
I'm so, lonely for her, for her
Open my window, oh
I'm ready to live with this

And you walk by my window, oh
You give me something to miss
White legs to the touch
Why do you hurt me so much
