

Ghost Opera (live)

Kamelot

Once a while
When your sorrows have a name
And day is dark as night
No remorse and no redemption
Close the door
Can you hear the crowd is waiting
For the last encore
Screaming out for my attention Chanting my name Welcome all to curtain call
At the opera
Raging voices in my mind
Rise above the orchestra
Like a crescendo of gratitude This is my song Like the dead
I am on the other side
Their howling in my head
No remorse and no redemption
Hush my dear
Let the music fill the night
And soon its all we hear
Screaming out for my attention Chanting my name
Chanting my name Welcome all to curtain call
At the opera
Raging voices in my mind
Rise above the orchestra
Like a crescendo of gratitude Dont wake me until its over
I, I may be dreaming awake Chanting my name
Chanting my name Welcome all to curtain call
At the opera
Raging voices in my mind
Rise above the orchestra Welcome all to curtain call
At the opera
Raging voices in my mind
