Something To Me

Tift Merritt

Oh, the song I love the bests the one my father taught to me
The kindness of a stranger is dust from an unseen wing
But an old friend at my table is by far the finest thing
This tired mile could give to meOh, the colors of the man I love are deepest blue and green
And it isnt very often that I say just what I mean
'Cause the feeling seems to scatter and these words fall in between
For what I miss Ill just tell you thisIts something to me, its something to me
I dont know what it comes to and its not so much to see
But you take tomorrow so long as you know
Its something to me, its something to meGentle is the road within me and its gently I depart
'Cause these well-worn threads of daylight will sometimes come apart
Giving way to all the shadows where no one can hear your heart
So down in the dark, if thats where you areIts something to me, its something to me
I dont know what it comes to and its not so much to see
But you take tomorrow so long as you know
Its something to me, its something to meWell, the tender hands of morning giving up a new sunrise
And we all get up together in our ordinary lives
Going one step for another, giving up has crossed my mind
Ill take a long day, come 'round the right wayIts something to me, its something to me
I dont know what it comes to and its not so much to see
But you take tomorrow so long as you know
Its something to me, its something to me
You take tomorrow so long as you know
Its something to me, its something to me
