I Must Have That Man

Liza Minnelli

Don't want my mammy, I don't need a friend
My heart is broken, it won't ever mend
I ain't much carin' just where I will end
But I must have that manI'm like an oven that's cryin' for heat
He treats me awful each day of the week
It's just unlawful how that man can cheat
But I must have that manHe's hot as Hades, a lady's not safe
In his arms when she's kissed
But I'm afraid that when he's cooled off
Maybe I'll be ruled off his list
And I'll never be missedI need this person much worse than just bad
I'm half alive and it's drivin' me mad
He's only human if he's to be had
I must have that man
