The Bruisers

The Bruisers - Blue Girl - 1963 by Les Vandike

Blue, Blue, Blue, Blue Girl

Little girl standing there by the riverside

Tears running down her cheek she cannot hide

What is she doing there?

That little girl, she's crying, heartbroken

The boy she gave her love token has denied her love

And she's a blue, blue, blue, blue girl,

A blue, blue, blue, blue girl

A blue girl

A blue girl

Now comes a lonely boy by the riverside

He's running like a deer straight to her side

What are you doing here, my little girl?

I'm crying, heartbroken, I gave you my love token, you denied my love

Now I'm a blue, blue, blue, blue girl

A blue girl

Now flows the lonely river deep and wide

Once more the river heard a voice that cried

Where is my love my own unhappy girl

I lost her for ever, but in the dark I'll never land my voice will cry

Where is my blue, blue, blue, blue girl

My blue blue, blue, blue girl

My blue girl

My blue girl
