Sons

Icehouse

We don't know this place this wasted stretch of land and these steaming horizons it's locked in our past it's strangely so familiar it's a scar on our memory no sign of the ancient heroes who gave us this one last hour it's so still; and so few of us here there's no sound here at all last light disappears
the Sons of decay
the ones left to stay
the Sons of decay
the ones left to stayFor years we were lost we slept; the system stored us and sealed in our orders we woke up alone
in this silence and in space as if nothing had happened
who left us this one long hour it's so still, so few of us here love, I'm feeling so small, all night just waiting here
we're the Sons of decay
the Sons of decay
ohohohhh [Instrumental Break]
it's so still, there's so few of us here now, I'm feeling so small, all night
with the Sons of decay
the Sons of decay

the Sons of decay
the Sons of decay
the Sons of decay
