

Before You Hit The Ground

Jonny Lang

Well, I've seen every one of the faces you wear Low, high and everything in between
In your eyes are fixed on the prize like a dead man's stare, yeah
Tick, tock, the hands on the clock don't care Yeah the buzz is good, and you're feelin' fine
One of these days, you'll be out of time
And I ain't gonna look for you, in the lost and found
So you better look up or you're gonna be gone, before you hit the ground You'll keep dippin' in 'til the well run dry
I hope you don't get thirsty later
Well I know talking to you's just a waste of my time
So I'm gonna stop tellin' how to live your life Yeah the buzz is good, and you're feelin' fine
On one of these days, you'll be out of time
And I ain't gonna look for you, in the lost and found, no, no
So you better look up or you're gonna be gone, before you hit the ground
Baby, ahh, before you hit the ground One more time to score, well, you better make it fast
When you lose your mind you got no mind left to lose
Oh go ahead and open the door to your last chance
And when you get where you're goin' you won't be comin' back So you better look up or you're gonna be gone,
before you hit the ground
