

Your Love Is Just for Strangers (I Suppose)

Earl Thomas Conley

Seems like the good times
Happen too early
Or maybe they just start out growing old
You slipped through my arms
In such a hurry
Searching for a softer love to hold
But that's the story of my life
A taste of what love might be like
That's how it is but not the way I chose
And your love is just for strangers, I suppose
Yes your love is just for strangers, I suppose
Oh but ain't it sad the way they come and go
But there's always someone lonely just down the road
And your love is just for strangers, I suppose

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>