

When Love Fades

Toby Keith

Going through the motions pretending to be
The man you used to see in me, baby
You don't wanna hurt me so you play along
And it don't feel right and it don't feel wrong It just feels like a memory
Barely alive
When will we let it die Where do you run? Where do you hide
After the promise breaks?
Who'll be the one to say goodbye
And who'll be the one to stay when love fades? How are we gonna let go of something that's gone
Ain't it funny how a broken heart just keeps hangin' on, baby
You watched me walk away and I set you free
But I come back to you and you come back to me I guess it beats being lonely
That's the reason why
We give it one more try Where do you run? Where do you hide
After the promise breaks?
Who'll be the one to say goodbye
And who'll be the one to stay when love fades?
When love fades Where do you run? Where do you hide
After the promise breaks?
Who'll be the one to say goodbye
And who'll be the one to stay when love fades?
When love fades
