

Ordinary World

The Clef Hangers

The sun can't remember how to shine
And the colors all have faded into shades of gray
There's no life in this hollow heart of mine
    Ever since you went away
    Close your eyes and feel me hold you
    Can you lead me through this ordinary world
Let the sky cry restless rain to wash away the miles between us
    'Cause without you it's just an ordinary world
    If time could find a way to turn around
I would walk along the stars, till I was back at your door
    Every word, every word is spoken but without a sound
        And I found out what my heart is for
        Close your eyes and feel me hold you
        Can you lead me through this ordinary world
Let the sky cry restless rain to wash away the miles between us
    'Cause without you it's just an ordinary world
    Hold your breath, here I come, time to roll on mine
Take back, to your arms till we melt underneath the blinding sun
    Can't remember how to shine
    You're the life in this hollow heart of mine
    Close your eyes and feel me hold you
    Can you lead me through, through this ordinary world
    Let the sky cry restless rain to wash away the miles between us
'Til love can come redeem us 'cause without you it's just an ordinary world
