Roadrunner United

The voice of loss is sighing through the rain
And as I turn around nothing's to be found
For hours now upon this endless road
Is it taking me where I long to be? Alone
Alone A soaring hope is reeling in my head
I can't remember this but it must be what I miss Suddenly I find I'm standing still
Staring at the ground, waiting for your sound Again
