False Alarm

Armored Saint

Look out the window, the sounds in the wind
You hear the siren again and again
Screaming a whine, deep in your mind
Follow the sign and you'll soarPiercing shrill that keeps you awake
You're the example he's ready to take
Though it seems wild, go for the ride
A change has been made for you on the other sideAnother false alarm, another false alarm
It won't do any harm, just another false alarmDeep in a sleep, you're awoken again
This time departure is scheduled at ten
Not a bad deal, this one's for real
And I can't let it goPiercing shrill that keeps you awake
You're the example he's ready to take
Laugh when you lose, hung by the noose
Anyway, the fire still burns to the coreAnother false alarm, another false alarm
Just another false alarmFalse alarm
False alarm
False alarm
