

Eyes Wide Open

King Crimson

Here it comes, here comes another day
Another decision on the way
Well, here it comes, here comes
A covered display of preferences to make
Well, here it comes, here comes a knock
On the door, open it for an opportunity
Well, here it comes, here comes another day
For memories to be made
Eyes wide open, eyes wide open all the time
And there it was, it was a perfect take
And were you asleep or awake?
There it was, it was a perfect time
To speak your mind
And there it was, it was a chance of a lifetime
It flew right by and what did you do?
Well, there it was, it was another day
For memories to be made
Eyes wide open, eyes wide open all the time
I've got my eyes wide open, eyes wide open all the time
Because you never know what you might see
