You're Making it Come Alive

My Favorite Highway

I've finally come to realize that we are all the same
If there's nothing left to lose, then there's everything to gain
All the paragraphs and pages you could write could not contain
It is curious and carless and it's flowing through my veinsThe fear of growing up
And doing what you're toldYou can't disguise a heart while it's breaking
Yeah, you hide behind the smile you're faking
It's all about a chance you're taking
Oh, and you know you're making it all come alive
It all come aliveIf you're life is so damn comfortable
Then why do you complain?
A reflection in the alcohol you're pouring down the drain
Just becuase you paint a picture doen't mean it fits the frame
This is my West Coast intervention and i'm getting on that planeWhen all of your mistakes
Are keeping you awakeYou can't disguise a heart while it's breaking
Yeah, you hide behind the smile you're faking
It's all about the chance you're taking
Oh, and you know that you're makingYou can't disguise a heart while it's breaking
Yeah, you hide behind the smile you're faking
It's all about the chance you're taking
Oh, and you know that you're making it all come alive
It all come aliveThe sun is setting and it's ending 'cause you're letting it go
Forgetting everything you already know
And it all goes to show
That you're moving too slow
And It'll end up changing you
It'll end up changing youYou can't disguise a heart while it's breaking
Yeah, you hide behind the smile you're faking
It's all about the chance you're taking
Oh, and you know that you're makingLife flies by so you have to embrace it
Yeah, forget the past 'cause you can't erase it
And live the dream and learn to chase it
And when you can almost taste it
It's all come alive
It's all come alive
It's all come alive
It's all come alive
