If I Had the Chance

Cynthia

If I had the chance to make love to you again
I'd hold you in my arms and I'd never let it endI'm feeling so afraid, a love I have betrayed
Alone I cried and thought about the big mistake I've made
I wish I could explain, I'm the only one to blameI've hurt enough of both of us and time will ease the pain
And how I regret that day and now that you've gone away
I'd give anything to bring you back home to meIf I had the chance to make love to you again
I'd hold you in my arms and I'd never let it end
If I had the chance just to be with you once more
I'd give the kind of love that you'd never had beforeI've learned my lesson well my life's an empty shell
Without you, without you there's no story left to tell
I believe, I believe you and me can find the love we hadAnd you'd see that we can make it better
'Cause together we were once so strong but now you've gone
And how I regret that day and now that you've gone away
I'd give anything to bring you back home to meIf I had the chance to make love to you again
I'd hold you in my arms and I'd never let it end
If I had the chance just to be with you once more
I'd give the kind of love that you'd never had beforeIf I had the chance to make love to you again
I'd hold you in my arms and I'd never let it end
If I had the chance just to be with you once more
I'd give the kind of love that you'd never had before
If I had the chance
