Hearsay

Forstella Ford

This could be the last song I ever sing,
And I should have seen this one coming
Because sad songs say something. no tie your tongue!
Tie your tongue! sad songs say shit.
Say something else, won't you, because
I'm afraid for you' isn't what I would die to hear you say.
Say something else, won't you, because '
I'm afraid it's true' brings miss interpreted to mind.
Distant futures in distinctly impossible somehow now so distant still.
