

Right Behind You (Mafia)

Our Lady Peace

You, you, you You haven't seen the world outside for days
You sleep, you hope, you wait
Imagination disappears
And all the dreams you have you save
Confrontation like a mirror
They try to take your mind away Hey hey, I don't know, but I believe in yesterday
And what it means to bleed
And know that you're okay Are you waiting?
No matter what you say
No matter what you do
No matter what, I'm always right there behind you No matter what you say
No matter what you do
No matter what, I'm always right there behind you You, you, you Bombarded by the atmosphere
You breath, you choke, you breath again
Conversation disappears
You realize they're not your friends
The panic of the future rears
You dig, you jerk, you find another way Hey hey, I don't know, but I believe in yesterday
And what it means to bleed
And know that you're okay Are you waiting?
No matter what you say
No matter what you do
No matter what, I'm always right there behind you No matter what you say
No matter what you do
No matter what, I'm always right there behind you You open up my veins
Now I don't feel the same, no no no
You open up my brain
But I wont be replaced, no no no No matter what you say
No matter what you do
No matter what, I'm always right there behind you No matter what you say
No matter what you do
No matter what, I'm always right there behind you No matter what you say
No matter what you do
No matter what, I'm always right there behind you No matter what you say
No matter what you do
No matter what, I'm always right there behind you
