Stop And Listen

Bethany Dillon

Yeah, yeah, yeah
Yeah
Yeah, yeah, yeah
Yeah
I wake up, start the rush
And pour some coffee
Things to do pile up
Oh so quickly
Too many days I feel like
I run on empty
Does anyone else out there
Feel like me?
Oh but I'd be a fool to forfeit
The chance to take a moment
For You to rise like the dawn
Over my cold, tired heart, heart
And what I thought I had lost
Finds me when I stop
Stop and listen, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
It's the same slowing down
Lesson we all learn
But I don't pay much attention
Till I crash and burn
Oh but I'd be a fool to forfeit
The chance to take a moment
For You to rise like the dawn
Over my cold, tired heart, heart
And what I thought I had lost
Finds me when I stop
Stop and listen
So all together
Let's stop and sit at His feet
My sisters and brothers
For You to rise like the dawn
Over my cold, tired heart
And what I thought I had lost
It finds me when I stop
It finds me when I stop
Stop and listen, yeah

Stop and listen, yeah
Stop and listen, yeah
Stop and listen, yeah
Stop and listen
