

Forces (Live from Soiled Dove)

Jackopierce

When will they ever see?
They turn their back on their decree
When will they ever know
That passion doesn't rest in blood and snow?
But I, I still believe time will always notice
I still believe time will always notice When will they ever leave
As they tense in silent grief
Spaces white, skin so pale
This land is not for sale
But I, I still believe time will always notice
I still believe time Let the forces run wild
Let the forces run wild
All the days it's plain to see
(Don't you know)
They turn their back on me
Let the forces run wild When will they ever grow?
Stole their slaves from Mexico
And brought them up to the States
Eyes turned the other way
I still believe time will always notice
I still believe time will always Oh, my reflection
Doesn't show my direction Let the forces run wild
Let the forces run wild
All the days it's plain to see
(Don't you know)
They turn their back on me
Let the forces run wild Let the forces run wild, yeah, yeah
Let the forces run wild
All the days it's plain to see
(Don't you know)
They turn their back on me
Let the forces run wild
