

On the Outside

Noi!se

Always all alone, always a step behind
Always on the outside, can't seem to get it right
So he walked the street on his own, with raised fists to the sky
And he asks why he's all alone, a man alone with just his pride

A lifetime locked in a sad routine, still he was on the outside
Such a small space inside such big dreams when you're never on the right side

Family by your side, still you never tried
Still you wanna die, while screaming into the night
Can't take it anymore, you walk right out that door
Into a world that hates you and just let them erase you.

A lifetime locked in a sad routine, still he was on the outside

A lifetime locked in a sad routine, still he was on the outside
Such a small space inside such big dreams when you're never on the right side

Break that never comes, Horse that never wins
A lifetime that just passes by, while you wait for your ship to come in
So he still asks himself why, why's faith the one to choose?
Cause life's a fucked up race and the race is yours to lose

A lifetime locked in a sad routine, still he was on the outside
