

Taree

Soundgarden

though i can?t put my hands on you i can feel you now in the bones and the blood flowing needles on the ground in the ether i sail to you floating on the fumes run aground on the shore for you simple wreckage taree walk out and raise the road to my tilted shadow
i only know i've made it home when i drown in your ghost light though i can?t put a name on you i will cry it out in my heart i will hold what my bloody hands have dropped run aground on the floor for you simple wreckage

to my tilted shadow
i only know i've made it home
taree! taree! taree!
