

I Owe You a Love Song

Shiny Toy Guns

I owe you a love song
So much I could say
I owe you a love song
Words that I can't say Remember the days
Of sleepless summer nights
That took us away
A perfect place, a different time Back when nothing was wrong
Now we're each sold separately
Our summers are gone
Gray skies are all I see These broken days
Won't last forever
You know I'll put us
Back together I owe you a love song
So much I could say
I owe you a love song
Words that I can't say Waiting alone
In the world you made for me
Makes staying in love
Just a world of make believe Where I'm playing along
And your words are clear to me
Like hearing a song
Without a melody These broken days
Won't last forever
You know I'll put us
Back together I owe you a love song
So much I could say
I owe you a love song
Words that I can't say We climb, we crawl
Tear down the wall
That we've torn down before
It's not too late, the song will say
What I never say I owe you a love song
So much I could say
I owe you a love song
Words that I can't say I owe you a love song
So much I could say
I owe you a love song
Words that I can't say
