Open Your Eyes

AFI

Do you think I give a shit How I'm seen through your eyes I just can't fucking stand The way you always have to criticize You have to find something wrong In everything you see It seems it's not that hard for you To find everything that's wrong with meOpen your eyes, And face the truth (Oah, oah, oah) Open your eyes The real problem's youDoes it build your self esteem To look for mistakes in everyone else The only answer I could find is that You're just not happy with yourself You hide something about yourself When you point out everyone else's mistakes 'Cause all the problems that you have Would just be too much for you to takeOpen your eyes And face the truth (Oah, oah, oah, oah) Open your eyes The real problem's you
