

King Takes The Queen

Larry Hosford

Well you're a high-life lady drinkin city wine and your finger rings honey how they shine
but you keep tellin' me that queen is the thing that I do not understand

I'd like to deal you into my game and you'd find
The king takes the queen honey, every time

With your chessboard logic and your knights and your pawn's you've rooked everybody that you've ever known

But sit right down and I'll deal up a hand and that's what I understand But one of my rules is clear as your wine

The king takes the queen honey every time

Well you'll consider everything the pro's and the con's So consider it said and consider it done
If you play the game the way that I've got planned
I hope you understand

Until you call me and we change your mind
The king takes the queen honey every time

I don't go no lowball, studder no (pan?)
I don't acey ducey with a woman or man but I've got (five?) for you sweet little hand that I know you'll understand

Until I see you turn water to wine
The king takes the queen honey every time you're a high-life lady drinkin' city wine

You're a highlife lady drinking city wine
and your finger rings honey how they shine
but you keep tellin' me that queen is the thing

that I do not understand

I'd like to deal you into my game and you'll find
The king takes the queen honey every time

Yes until I see you turn water to wine the king takes the queen every time
