Paul McCartney

Martin Scorsese

Last night I had a dream
It wasn't about anything
It made me smile
It made me scream
We should take this slow
'Cause I can't let go
It feels so good
To feel this, to feel this low
I stumble and she sees all
Waiting for me to fall
Obsessing over her
But it's nothing personal
We should take this slow
'Cause I can't let go
When it feels so good
To feel this low
And we'll take our time
To tell each other's lies
In a world so much brighter
If Paul were still alive, yeah
And take it slow
Till I lose control
I'm falling down
Falling down
Last night I had a dream
Wasn't about anything
I made you smile
And I made you scream
Oh, we should take this slow
'Cause I can't let go
When it feels this good
To feel so low
And we'll take our time
And tell each other's lies
In a world so much brighter
If Paul were still alive, hadn't he died
Yeah, yeah, yeah
Yeah, yeah, yeah
It's so much brighter and so

It's so much brighter and so
It's so much brighter and now so no, no
No, no, no, no, yeah
So can we, can we take time
When we, 'cause I can't let go
I can't let go, I can't let go
Yeah, oh, no
No, no, no, no, no
No, no, no, no
No, no, no, no, no
