Starlight

Dynazty

My downfall, I'm tripping on the edge
Push me in the back and I'll be stepping right over.
Reality is tipping on it's end. Push me in the back and you'll be treading on a crack in the iceYour silent scream it beckons to me but I'm to blind to see
Then I step into a dream and finally your eyes fade to black and I seeThe starlight within shining a light over my galaxy
Colors spring to life, sending me into serenity
Yeah, the starlight within, a guider of life in a sense of divinity
And the spirit in me ceases to be
Your eyes fade to black and I seeCome nightfall, the beast again awakes
Crawling deep inside and I begin to feel the change taking over me
Stirring up a rage, push me in the back and he'll be slipping right out of his cageThe horror scream, a catastrophe, the demon inside of me
Then I step into a dream and finally your eyes fade to black and I seeThe starlight within shining a light over my galaxy
Colors spring to life, sending me into serenity
Yeah, the starlight within, I rule over life with a sense of divinity
And the devil in me ceases to be
Your eyes fade to black and I seeThe starlight within shining a light over my galaxy
Spirits come alive, unveiling my violent complexity
The starlight within, a guider of life in a sense of divinity
Take me once and for all, my destiny calls
My eyes fade to black and I fall
And the spirit in me seizes to be
Your eyes fade to black and I see
