

Eastbound Train

Ratham Stone

Verse

You thought that you could leave me on the ground
    Never thought twice to turn around
Look the other way and you'll be sorry
    Looking for a reason way out
But you're committing treason right now
Baby, turn your head and I'll be gone for goodChorus
    When I'm on an eastbound train going
        Far, far away
        Time, it won't be wasted again
        And I run from everything and a
            White horse has lost its meaning
        When I run away, when I run away
            On an eastbound trainVerse
            Maybe I can focus my eyes
            On a pretty cloudless sunrise
But maybe if it's cold, ill just stay right here
    I've snuck out a bathroom window
        And didn't make a sound long ago
In the middle of the night with a withdrawal mind
    Chorus
When I'm on an eastbound train going
    Far, far away
    Time, it won't be wasted again
    And I run from everything and a
        White horse has lost its meaning
    When I run away, when I run away
        On an eastbound train
