

You vs Me

Little Green Cars

Alone inside my head, with a secret that's out of date and a whipping tongue that just can't wait you know it used to be the whole world versus you and me but now it seems it's just you versus me when it comes down to it i just was not ready for it maybe all that's left is a love that's more permanent than death it's inevitable it's as sure as a bird and all i want to see is the difference in between a love born out of grief and sympathy when it comes down to it i just was not ready for it and you're not backing down and i won't come around and you're not backing down and i won't come around if this is you just trying to hurt yourself well i won't help, no i won't help and if you think i'm going to self-destruct well i'll give it up or i'll give you up so i'll give it up
