

Not Guilty

George Harrison

Not guilty

Of getting in your way while you're trying to steal the day

Not guilty

And I'm not here for the rest, I'm not trying to steal your vest
I'm not trying to be smart, I only want what I can get

I'm really sorry for your aging head

But like you heard he said, I'm not guilty Not guilty

For being on your street, getting underneath your feet

Not guilty

No use handing me a writ while I'm trying to do my bit
I don't expect to take your heart, I only want what I can

I'm really sorry that you're underfed

But like you heard he said, I'm not guilty Not guilty

For looking like a freak, making friends with every Sikh

Not guilty

For leading you astray on the roads to Mandalay
I won't upset the apple cart, I only want what I can get

I'm really sorry that you've been misled

But like you heard he said, I'm not guilty
