

Cat Piano

Seabear

Half remembered
Drunken nights
The sun stayed up like
A diamond in the sky I woke up
Where have you been?
I know I'm bored
And my blood is pretty thin But some nights I swear
There was magic in the air
A fox invites me to part from loneliness
Wolves seem to pick a scent of an owl in my head Your head's in headlock
You in trouble again?
Now you've lost
Another friend You felt something
But you're never feeling loved
When that'll bring men
You're the one that's freaking lost
