

Body Was Made

Ezra Furman

My body was made this particular way, there's really nothing any obstetrician can say Your social beliefs can just get out of my face and my body was madeMy body was made this particular way, recurrent desire never totally tamed And honey i've tried and tried to explain it away but my body was madeHis body's a ship with an impenetrable hole, his bedroom shelves lined up with animal skulls He's making me feel an irresistable pull his body was madeMy body was made with this attribute too, the need to become something totally new Mysterious forces that don't involve you body was madeBody was made, so just fucking relax don't buy all my play with historical facts?
I want to go forwards don't want to go back and my body was madeYour body is yours at the end of the day and don't let the hateful try and take it away We want to be free, yeah we go our own way
and our body was made
