A Human Certainty

Saccharine Trust

Don't come in here
You'll see something ugly
It's not the kind of thing
You'd expect from a body
Don't come in here
Don't see me this way
With my knees on rice
And a prayer for the prey
My face is heavy
My mind is clenched
My eyes are disgusted
My hands are hot
My walls are green
My walls are red
I only cry wolf
When all my sheep are dead
Don't come in here
I beg of you
Yes there's love in my heart
But there's hatred in my thoughts
Don't believe in me
Or anything that speaks
'Cause you won't be deceived
By a human certainty
My face is heavy
My mind is clenched
My eyes are disgusted
My hands are hot
My floors are green
My floors are red
I only cry wolf
When all my sheep are dead
Last night I had a dream about you and in my dream you were only asleep I sat in a chair and watched you as you laid there so beautifully the still of the night made me lonely I wanted to touch you. I wanted to feel you. I wanted things to be just like they rise to be except I'd keep all my promises the I felt so ashamed

I was so ashamed until I realized we're all guilty of that dream and forever I wish you a beautiful sleep
