

These Pages

Mainstay

Go tell the world that there is nothing here to hide
It seems like everyone's been covering their eyes
Words that You didn't say were haunting these pages
And faces You didn't make were all I was seeing
The way that they painted You, it wasn't a picture
Of one in control and I don't think they know who You are Build brackets around You so You can come out clean
We tried to give You limits that You didn't need
Words that You didn't say were haunting these pages
And faces You didn't make were all I was seeing
The way that they painted You, it wasn't a picture
Of one in control and I don't think they know who You are
You can order all this heartbreak
You don't need my permission to move
I wish they would just stop trying to filter You out
We've got nothing to prove
Words that You didn't say were haunting these pages
And faces You didn't make were all I was seeing
The way that they painted You, it wasn't a picture
Of one in control and I don't think they know who You are

Lyrics provided by <https://damlyrics.com/>