Wild Side Of Life

Status Quo

Well, you wouldn't read my letters if I wrote you
You ask me not to call you on the phone
Well, there's something I've been waiting for, to tell you
So I wrote it in the words of a song
Now the glamor of the gay night life has lured you
To the places where the wine and liquor flow
Well, you went to be some body else's baby
And forget the truest love you ever know
I never knew there where honky tonk angels
Ohh, I might have know you never make a wife
You gave up the only one that ever loved you
And went back to that wild side of life
Now the glamour of the gay night life has lured you
To the places where the wine and liquor flow
Well, you went to be some body else's baby
And forget the truest love you ever know
I never knew there where honky tonk angels
Ohh, I might have know you never make a wife
You gave up the only one that ever loved you
And went back to that wild side of life
I never knew there where honky tonk angels
Ohh, I might have know you never make a wife
You gave up the only one that ever loved you
And went back to that wild side of life
