Faces (I Know)

Greenwheel

Broken down,
This place seems to have no face
There's no one moving forward now
They're just drowning in it all
Walking around in circles
With a never changing view
As hopeless as this all may seem
There's a reason for everythingTrust me, I knowI've been to the same places
And seen the same faces
Come and go
You're left wondering now
Can you resist somehow?
But you've fallen behind again
Not knowing where you've been
Just where did you begin?And again
Faces blank like they've always been
Ignoring everything that matters
Just following behind
Always pointing fingers now
No, you're never the one to blame
I know you don't want to feel
Responsible for all that is realTrust me, I knowI've been to the same places
And seen the same faces
Come and go
Can you resist somehow?
But you've fallen behind again
Not knowing where you've been
Just where did you begin?
