Would I Lie

Amy Speace

This year my fathers heros have all passed
Reagan, Waylon, June & Johny Cash
I have felt the earth deep in my bones
Are these growing pains or shifting stones?Cars are standing still on 95
Waiting for the tunnel in straight lines
Past my hands, resting on the wheel
The skylines still an open wheel of steelWould I lie
Would I lie
Would I lie
Just to get byIm angrier than I have ever been
Were all throwing punches to the wind
Wheres the truth when everything is polled
Theyd sell Jesus fore his blood ran coldBoys with guns and girls in mud stained skirts
This is how you paint the perfect world
Gasoline and gold pulled from the ground
Remember that when traffic slows you downWe all lie
We all lie
We all lie
Just to get by
