

Back of my Head.

Short Stack

(Andy)

It's a late night,
and he comes home,
he thinks of her,
she's all alone

watching tv by an open window,
he wonders if she knows,
he thinks only he knows,
but the days are passing,
and he thinks she'll forget
so we keep it all here, in the Back of your Head shadows on the wall who mock me,

make a false sense of security,

I think a deep thought and I try to compare,

My lonely heart to yours,
so you know that I'm there

But the days are passing
and the fire is dead,

so we keep it all here in the back of your head.(Shaun)

Are you out there?

Are you anywhere?

Just a goodbye just like in my nightmare,

Are you lost without me?

Are you better off dead?

You should keep it all here in the Back of My Head.(Andy)

I remember that we had no structure,
a lonely park that night I wish I fucked her looked in your eyes can't remember whether or not that I wish this night would last forever

now the story is ending

and things are better not said

so we keep it all here in the back of your head(Shaun)

Are you out there?

Are you anywhere?

Just a goodbye just like in my nightmare,

Are you lost without me?

Are you better off dead?

You should keep it all here in the Back of My Head.Are you out there?

Are you anywhere?

Just a goodbye just like in my nightmare,
Are you lost without me?
Are you better off dead?
You should keep it all here in the Back of My Head.Are you out there?
Are you anywhere?

Just a goodbye just like in my nightmare,
Are you lost without me?
Are you better off dead?

You should keep it all here in the Back of My Head.Goodbye goodbye goodbye goodbye goodb-Goodbye goodbye goodbye goodbye goodb-he thinks of her, her, her, her, her, her, her, herIts a late night and he comes home,
he thinks of her, her, her, her, her, her, her, her
