Being Followed

Duran Duran

To the voyeur seated in the darkened room
Do you thrill when the green light starts pulsing?
Paranoia, the only valid point of view
If you know what I'm saying
I'm not alone, being followed
Someone always watching what we do
Never alone but I'm in the shadows
I dream things I don't want you to know
Something shifting between the sirens and the glow
Of red lights and the blue slowly turning
A fog is lifting, a silhouette begins the show
Then the moment is stolen
I'm not alone, being followed
Someone always watching what we do
Never alone, I'm in the shadows
I dream things I don't want you to know
In this chamber lit by scandal
Your the bullet in the barrel
You're the last thing as I'm falling
Bloody roaring still I'm calling out, I'm calling out
I'm not alone, being followed
Never alone, I'm being followed
I'm not alone, being followed
Never alone, I'm being followed
