Cosmopolitan

Christian Smith

[Chorus]
There's a warm summer's breeze not a cloud in the sky
Put your worries on a poll in the sunshine.
And the girls are outside reading Cosmopolitan
And the boys are outside and you know their watching them
And the girls are outside reading Cosmopolitan
And the boys are outside and you know their watching them.

It must be interesting
Because you've been reading the same pages since half past 10
Its now half past 12
Come on girl
You aint reading it at all
'Cos your looking away
And ya shades are in the way
And I think its safe to say
That you've been caught

[Chorus]
There's a warm summer's breeze not a cloud in the sky
Put your worries on a poll in the sunshine.
And the girls are outside reading Cosmopolitan
And the boys are outside and you know their watching them
And the girls are outside reading Cosmopolitan
And the boys are outside and you know their watching them.

Kids are playing ice-cream making out in the sunshine
Football kicking more she drinking wicked out here in the sun
Kids are playing ice-cream making out in the sunshine
Football kicking more she drinking wicked out here in the sun

All the boys are in the short sunting
And all their fresh white t's are blowing in the wind
It's now half past 6, the sun gone down
But that don't mean shi...

Because we're feeling okay
Been drinking all day
And I think it's safe to say,

The night's still young

[Chorus]
There's a warm summer's breeze not a cloud in the sky
Put your worries on a poll in the sunshine.
And the girls are outside reading Cosmopolitan
And the boys are outside and you know their watching them
And the girls are outside reading Cosmopolitan
And the boys are outside and you know their watching them.

The boys are outside sunshine blazing down
The girls are outside looking fine, because the raze is on'em [x4]
