Girl Next Door

Jessie James

Got a call from my friend
She saw my picture again in a magazine
We laughed out loud 'cause she said
Remember when this was all a silly dream?
Now I wake up every day in a different city
A smile on my face, somebody pinch me
She said all the world's a stage but girl you know
Those cameras and lights won't ever change me
I don't need champagne when I'm back home with my friends
We sip on tea on the porch 'cause I'm still the girl next door
No fancy things when I come off tour
I slip back into my jeans 'cause I'm still the girl next door
It's amazin' to hear people singin' along
Hear the radio playin' my song
I still get butterflies, still get nervous inside
In the spotlight
Now every now and then on a Friday night
Cruisin' down to the dive bar
We waste the night away, spend Saturday sleepin' in late
Those were the good days
I don't need champagne when I'm back home with my friends
We sip on tea on the porch 'cause I'm still the girl next door
No fancy things when I come off tour
I slip back into my jeans 'cause I'm still the girl next door
And even when I'm miles away
I'll always have the roots from where I came
'Cause when it all fades away
My home will still be the same, yeah, yeah
I don't need champagne when I'm back home with my friends
We sip on tea on the porch 'cause I'm still the girl next door
No fancy things when I come off tour
I slip back into my jeans 'cause I'm still the girl next door
I don't need champagne when I'm back home with my friends
We sip on tea on the porch 'cause I'm still the girl next door
No fancy things when I come off tour
I slip back into my jeans 'cause I'm still the girl next door
I don't need champagne when I'm back home with my friends
We sip on tea on the porch 'cause I'm still the girl next door
No fancy things when I come off tour

I slip back into my jeans 'cause I'm still the girl next door
