Children On Parade

Colin Hay

All the girls and boys are gone away They never really had much to say They took off all their clothes and their shoes Politely asked to be excusedThey're the children on parade They have secrets that they share They're the children on parade And nobody knows, nobody knowsAll the broken toys lie on the floor There's no more laughter from down the hall Mirror, mirror, mirror on the wall Whatever could have happened to them all? To the children on parade And all the secrets that they share They're the children on parade And nobody knows, nobody knowsAll across the world, just yesterday All the girls and boys just went away They took off all their clothes and their shoes I'd love to someday hear all the newsAbout the children on parade And all the secrets that they share They're the children on parade And nobody knows, nobody knows Nobody knows, nobody knows
