

So Glad

Amy Grant

I had laid some mighty plans
Thought I held them in my hands
Then my world began to crumble all away I tried to build it back again
I couldn't bear to see it end
How I hurt to know You wanted it that way.

(Chorus)

And I'm so glad, glad to find the reason That I'm happy-sad that You've torn it all away
And I'm so glad, though it hurts to know I'm leaving Everything I ever thought that I would be Once I held it in my hand
It was a kingdom made of sand
But now you've blown it all away
I can't believe that I can say that I'm glad.

Long before my plans were made I know a master plan was laid
With a power that superceded my control
And if that truth could pierce my heart I wouldn't wander from the start Trying desperately to make it on my own.

(Chorus)

Songwriters

GILL, AMY GRANT/CHRISTIAN, CHRIS/BANNISTER, ELLIOTT B. Published by Lyrics © Warner/Chappell Music, Inc. Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>