Left Me For Dead

Rob Dougan

You didn't stop to look 'round
You were gone before I hit the ground
You went on your way, and no prayer was said
You left me for deadYou didn't cover my face
I didn't merit a communal grave
You set me aside, and no tears were shed
You left me for deadAnd I say I won't stop, no
Till Hell is your home
There's nowhere to hide
No, nowhere
You'll feel the cold of my gun at your head
You left me for deadAnd it's not like you stayed by my side
Or you called me a priest
You searched through my mouth
To check for gold teeth
You were pawning my shoes as I bled
You left me for, left me for, left me for deadYou kept on taking your time
Until it was certain I couldn't survive
Judas remained, you turned and fled
You left me for deadAnd it didn't trouble your mind
It did not disturb you to see me decline
You turned out my lights, you put me to bed
You left me for deadAnd I say that I won't rest my head
Until Hell is your home
You'll think that you're safe, but oh no
You'll feel the cold of my gun hit your head
You left me for deadAnd you didn't stay close to me
Didn't stay by my side
I was choking in blood as delight filled your eyes
You're a bum for each word that you said
'Cause you left me for, left me for, left me for deadBut I don't want to search no more
There's nowhere to hide
So why don't you come quietly, my love
I wanted to say, to say that you sure proved
The death of me'Cause now I've reached the dead end
And I can't go back
But if I'm going down you'll come with me
'Cause you didn't stop to look 'roundYou were gone before I hit the ground
You went on your way

And no prayer was said
Ha, you left me for dead'Cause you didn't cover my face
I didn't merit a communal grave
You set me aside
And no tears were shed
You left me for dead[Foreign Content]
You left me for dead[Foreign Content]
You left me for dead
