Misery

Arabesque

I'll give you my heart!A life away, a shredded heart,
It's times like this I fall apart.
With broken skin and shattered bones
I'm on my knees to wish you home.
(Everything hurts)Miles melt to misery
The taste of sorrow from your soul
It's not my blood that fuels me, no!
It's the hollowness to be made wholeNever together but soon forever, this time between us I'll see it severed.
Within the quiet stop and listen, the sound of never ending distance.I'll take your hand, but then I'll fall forever.
I'll give you my heart, just to keep us together.
Every word that you spoke just to help me believe,
and now I feel nothing but misery.
Come take me away,
Because I can't stand this place,
without you here.You are what I'm fighting for.
But you can't take this distance anymore.
I'm begging you to wait, just please hold on.
Because I'm trying my best, to stay strong.I can't breathe,
I'm breaking apart.
The sound of your voice,
Is killing my heart.Never together but soon forever, this time between us I'll see it severed.
Within the quiet stop and listen, the sound of never ending distance.I'll take your hand, but then I'll fall forever.
I'll give you my heart, just to keep us together.Every word that you spoke just to help me believe,
and now I feel nothing but misery.
Come take me away,
'cause I can't stand this place,
without you here.And I'll be yours, for as long as your mine,
I will sing these words till' the end of time,
While these blades bring us down, and they tear at our skin
There is nothing to stop you so just, let me in.
All promises are broken... (just, let, me in)
With these words unspoken...(Please just let me in!)
With one thousand miles, between you and me,
Every day just reminds me, you're my destiny.
As we both play facades and pretend that we're fine,
I know what you want so just say that you'll never be mine...I'll try to take your hand, but then I'll fall forever.
I'll give you my heart, just to keep us together.
Every word that you spoke just to help me believe,
and now I feel nothing but misery.Never together but soon forever, this time between us I'll see it severed.

Within the quiet stop and listen, the sound of never ending distance.I'll try to take your hand, but then I'll fall forever.
I'll give you my heart, just to keep us together.Every word that spoke just to help me believe,
and now I feel nothing but misery.I can't breathe,
I'm breaking apart.
The sound of your voice,
The sound of your voice yeah,
it's killing, it's killing my heart.
