Save Me

Elenowen

Like a cannonball to my chest
Her words ripped me in two
I wished her all of the best
And she wished me the truth
So what am I supposed to do
Now that I've lost all I've known?
The heavy heart that's inside of me
Is sinking like a stone
Sinking like a stoneSave me, save me
I need more than just a hand to hold
I need to be carried
Save me, save me
Bring your sweet redemption
And promise to never leaveLike a soldier going off to war
It hurt to let him go
I did what needed to be done
But now I'm feeling so alone
We built a home out of sand
But the tide kept coming strong
Broken back and calloused hands
I can only stand so long
Now all my hope is goneSave me, save me
I need more than just a hand to hold
I need to be carried
Save me, save me
Bring your sweet redemption
And promise to never leaveYou are the place where I belong
I'll never know where I went wrong
Forever I am holding on
To the hope of youSave me, save me
I need more than just a hand to hold
I need to be carried
Save me, save me
Bring your sweet redemption
And promise to never leave
