

I Know It Was You

Lonestar

I remember that hot summer night like it was yesterday
Never saw it coming
The sweet smile in the crowd slowly turned and looked my way
Girl, you were something!
Never thought you would notice me, baby
Now look at us, we're a love gone crazy! Might've been the whiskey in the water
Could've been your eyes in the neon glow
Might've been those lemon-drop kisses
Dripping off the lips and begging me not to go
Might've been the way you were swaying
To every song they were playing
Might've been the stars, could've been the moon
But I know it was you! I don't know what it was that made me ask 'cause I don't dance
What was I thinking?
Not sure what it was, got a buzz when you took my hand
My head started spinning
I've never fallen so fast or so hard
I can't explain what happened to my heart! Might've been the whiskey in the water
Could've been your eyes in the neon glow
Might've been those lemon-drop kisses
Dripping off the lips and begging me not to go
Might've been the way you were swaying
To every song they were playing
Might've been the stars, could've been the moon
But I know it was you! I know, I know, I know, I know it was you, yeah! Never thought you would notice me, baby
Now look at us, we're a love gone crazy! Might've been the whiskey in the water
Could've been your eyes in the neon glow
Might've been those lemon-drop kisses
Dripping off the lips and begging me not to go
Might've been the way you were swaying
To every song they were playing
Might've been the stars, could've been the moon
But I know it was you! Yeah I know it was you!
I know, I know, I know, I know it was you
Dripping off my lips, I know it was you!

Songwriters

FRANK MYERS, RICHIE MCDONALD, DEAN SAMSPublished by

Lyrics Â© OLE MEDIA MANAGEMENT

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>