

In Memory Of

Scream Out Loud

So hard to speak
With all your words collecting doubt
Well how can you breathe
When all you do is scream and shout
I still remember the time
With your hand in my face
And my back to the wall
If only we were wiser
We would of had the strength to know

Who's to blame
Because no one will catch you when your falling down

You tore your heart into a mess
For nothing
I tried to reach you but you can't hold out your hand
There's so much more you could have gained
From trying
This is the way it had to be

We were already there
Our streets were paved in gold
But that washed away with your departure

It's to bad your gone
Because your chance was lost before you hit the door
And now you've gone to far away

You tore your heart into a mess
For nothing
I tried to reach you but you can't hold out your hand
There's so much more you could have gained
From trying
This is the way it had to be

YOUR EFFORT WAS IN VAIN

---

Lyrics submitted by Scream Out Loud.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>