Thrice

We move for all mankind
A million miles from everything we've ever known
We're on their hearts and minds
A million heads are bowed to bring us safely home Hemmed in by emptiness
A million ways that everything could be undone
This hollow in my chest is filled with reasons
Not to sing but I found one, I know We are not alone, we feel an unseen love
We are sons and heirs of grace, we are children of
A light that never dims, a love that never dies
Keep your chin up child and wipe the tears from your eyes In sleep we saw ourselves
A million years we had been waiting there it seems
While someone weaves a spell
A million stars look on in witness to our dreams, I know We are not alone, we feel an unseen love
We are sons and heirs of grace, we are children of
A light that never dims, a love that never dies
Keep your chin up child and wipe the tears from your eyes We feel an unseen love
We are children of light We are not alone, we feel an unseen love
We are sons and heirs of grace, we are children of
A light that never dims, a love that never dies
Keep your chin up child and wipe the tears from your eyes I stand ready and tall, reflect the light
