

Have You Got the Right

Ocean Colour Scene

I dont ever wanna go out like a lightHave you got the right
To lay your burden on me?
Have you got the right
To lay your burden on me?Is it ever right
Make it all out when it will never be?But its different, so different
So different from before
And it gets no easierDo you have the right
To come on over so strong?
Does it make it right
When it makes it all so very wrong?But its different from before
This is different from before
This is different from before
