

Fever

Findlay

Wild eyes, the hot cheeks
I lie, he cheats
There's no tragedy running through your bloodstream
A hot anxiety, pump, fire, heartbeat
Down, down, down and out
Down, down, down and out
Down, down, down and out
And I caught my death last night
I've been caught so many times
Limitations of the mind
My, my, love, love, like a fever
My mind, body shuts down
My love like a fever
Burned out, I fall
Bad news, I know
We're still stuck inside our universe of consciousness
Vague understandings of the war between the two of us
Run, run, run me down
Run, run, run me down
Down, down, down and out
The element to which surprise
And all your thoughts are magnified
Reflecting back into my eyes
Through yours, your voice, your one disguise
My, my, love, love, like a fever
My mind, body shuts down
My love like a fever
Are you suspicious that my love doesn't cast a shadow?
Are you suspicious that my love doesn't cast a shadow?
Are you suspicious that my love doesn't cast a shadow?
Are you suspicious? My love doesn't cast a shadow!
Are you suspicious, my love?
My, my, love, love, like a fever
My mind, body shuts down
My love like a fever
My, my, love, love, like a fever
My mind, body shuts down
My love like a fever
